Andover Train Service To End Friday Night

By Robert E. Finneran
Managing Editor

Andover's once-a-day train service to Boston will cease as of the last train out Friday night.

Mass. Bay Transportation Authority officials posted the notice Wednesday, following a decision of the selectmen Monday night not to request additional funds for the commuter line, kept alive a year ago at town meeting by the Andover Rail Committee (ARC).

ARC members, appearing before the board Monday night, reluctantly agreed that the selectmen were proper in making the decision, following an indication from MBTA that costs for the passenger service would exceed the $18,500 appropriation by almost $10,000 this year.

Frank Trombly, head of Trombly Motor Coach service which runs regular commuter express service to Boston, said Wednesday he was prepared to put extra buses on Monday morning to accommodate riders who would be inconvenienced by the termination of train service.

Walter Williams, of the commuter rail division of the MBTA told the TOWNSMAN Tuesday that the service would have to be terminated to Andover as soon as possible, due to the deficit incurred since February when the town's funds were exceeded.

The notice posted by the MBTA Wednesday noted that the train would still run, but would not stop at Ballardvale, Andover or Shawsheen stations, where close to 50 percent of the ridership was generated.

The Buddliner runs to Lawrence and Haverhill, which now must determine if they wish to continue the train service with the increased costs.

The Andover action is similar to that taken by Mayor Byron Matthews of Newburyport who, citing excessive and increased costs of the train service, terminated the line there as of Wednesday of this week.

Olesen Elected Board Chairman

George Olesen
New Chairman

George Olesen, beginning his third year on the Andover School Committee, was elected its chairman Tuesday night.

Newcomer Joseph Finn made the nomination, with a second from the outgoing chairman of three years, Frank Griggs. Olesen added his own vote to make it three to two in his favor.

Voting against him were colleagues Elaine Viehmann and David Ahouse, and they gave their reasons why.

"George," Mrs. Viehmann said, "it was about 10 months ago I remember (former Committeeman) John Lyons saying to you that sometimes you are abrasive, and you agreed."

She went on to say that she felt it was the responsibility of the chairman "to be as dispassionate as possible no matter what issue confronts the committee."

In the two years she has observed Olesen on the committee, she said, "that is a quality I don't feel is strong in you."

Ahouse, beginning his first full, three-year term on the committee by virtue of last week's election, said his sentiments were much the same. He said he had talked to Olesen privately about his attitude, but that he hadn't seen any public improvement.

"If I voted for you in public," Ahouse said, he would be condoning such action.

Upon taking the chair with an "I don't know whether to say thank you or not," Olesen promptly nominated Ahouse to be secretary. Mrs. Viehmann seconded and Ahouse received a unanimous committee vote.

Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert congratulated them both, and said he would "respect the vote of the community as its interfaces with the school system." If any of the staff should be treated discourteously, however, he said he would "ask the committee to deal directly with me and that the staff leave."

"I feel everyone at this table is trying to make the school system work," he said. "All that I ask is that common

Honored For Rescue Effort

Alison McGoff

Alison McGoff of Andover was recently presented a certificate of recognition for extraordinary personal action in rescuing a Wilmington youngster from Silver Lake last May.

Miss McGoff, along with David O'Rourke of Wilmington, was honored by the Greater Lowell Chapter of the American Red Cross for their actions on May 28, 1975, when they rescued five-year-old Mark Ouellette from Silver Lake in Wilmington. Alison and David used mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, using Red Cross techniques to save the youngster.

Alison, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McGoff of 11 Apple Tree Lane, Andover, is a senior at the University of Vermont in Burlington.

Kolaski Asks For Recount

Casimir J. Kolaski, defeated in his bid for the school committee by a two-vote margin, filed petitions for a recount with Town Clerk Elden R. Salter this week.

Kolaski, citing the urging of his supporters, filed the necessary papers with the town clerk on Monday, noting the reasons for the recount as possible incorrect count of ballots as blanks, errors on the tally sheets, mutilated card ballots and blanks being incorrectly counted for Joseph Finn who was declared elected.

It will be the first recount conducted since the inception of computer card balloting in Andover in the Presidential election of 1968.

Kolaski was quick to point out that he had the "utmost respect for the integrity and competence of all of those officials involved in the conduct of Andover's elections, I believe that the possibility of even the slightest error, either human or mechanical, justifies this request as a difference of 0.02 percent would change the outcome of the election."

A hand count of the cards processed by the computer has been requested.

Town Clerk Salter said that the petitions would have to be certified by the board of registrars of voters, then a date set for the recount as soon as possible.

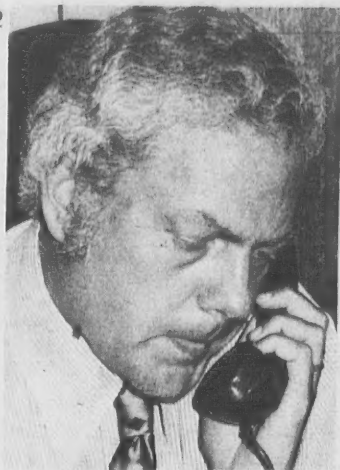

Finn, at Tuesday night's school committee meeting, indicated that the recount would probably take place on Saturday, April 10.

The town clerk will line up the necessary workers to han-

Rep. Gerald M. Cohen

Named To Committee By Dukakis

Governor Michael Dukakis has announced the appointment of Representative Gerald M. Cohen of Andover to the new Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act Advisory Committee.

"I look forward to working with Representative Cohen as we explore some of the problems and solutions to juvenile crime and justice in the Commonwealth," the Governor said.

Cohen will join 32 other members of the Advisory Committee which was established by Executive Order, in accordance with national legislation of 1974, aimed at fostering justice for youths and reducing juvenile delinquency.

Under the auspices of the state's Committee on Criminal Justice, the Advisory Committee will participate in the development of a comprehensive plan for the use of federal funds, and will collect data on the needs of the Commonwealth's youth and their families.

In swearing-in ceremonies in Doric Hall (10 a.m.), Dukakis noted that "an exhaustive grassroots search for Advisory Committee members" had resulted in the selection of "a group of superbly qualified individuals."

The members of the committee were selected by a screening committee under the direction of Ivey St. John of Project Place, a Boston social service organization. The screening committee mailed 1000 brochures to appropriate individuals and organizations, outlining the intent of the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act and the Advisory Committee's mandate, and asking for the submission of names of potential candidates. The committee submitted its recommendations to the Governor from an original list of 125 people.

"This Advisory Committee," Dukakis said at the swearing-in ceremonies, "includes individuals who work daily with troubled youth. Among them are case workers, judges, probation officers, youthful ex-offenders, police officers, and agency representatives."

"They will play an active role in making decisions which affect our juvenile population. I believe that an effective committee is vital to the interests of youth and their families throughout the Commonwealth."

One third of the Committee members will serve for one year, one third for two years, and one third for three years, until the pattern of three years staggered terms is established.

Town meeting this will be a "continuing showing".

The selectmen Moderator William Dalton have agreed to continue the sessions on a monthly basis until all business is completed.

Opening session will be Monday, April 26, at 7 p.m. at Memorial Auditorium in East Junior High school.

Town Meeting Nights To Run Consecutively

Town meeting this year will be a "continuous showing".

The selectmen and Moderator William J. Dalton have agreed to continue the sessions on a nightly basis until all business is completed.

Opening session will be Monday, April 26, at 7:30 p.m. at Memorial Auditorium in East Junior High School.

Based on past scheduling the sessions will run until about 10:30 p.m., at which time the meeting will be adjourned until the following night.

Moderator Dalton said the new format was an attempt to maintain continuity, feeling that the proximity of the sessions will aid in this regard, rather than the postponing from week to week as has been custom in the past.

Considerable effort is being made to alert the townspeople to the town meeting this year and its importance on the town's tax rate and governmental operations.

Poster and essay contest are planned, with details found elsewhere in this edition of the TOWNSMAN.

An effort by newly-elected

William J. Dalton
Moderator

Selectman Richard J. Bowen to change the town meeting back to an all-day Saturday affair was rejected by his colleagues Monday night. Bowen suggested the change to the format which was used for a time while he was manager here, but failed to win accord from other members of the board.

Colonial Compromise

Indefatigable Norma Gammon, who chairs the Andover Bicentennial Commission, has succeeded again.

Monday night the selectmen, three of them at least, relented on an earlier unanimous decision not to don colonial costumes for town meeting.

This week, three members of the board - Mrs. Janet Lake, Mrs. Susan Poore and Richard J. Bowen - agreed that the bicentennial adornment would be appropriate for the session and will join with other officials who have indicated they will dress in appropriate garb.

Chairman Milton Greenberg and Selectman Alan F. French, however, indicate they will dress in their business-as-usual suits.

Civic Center Proposal Premature

Robert G. Goodwin, in a letter to the selectmen this week, proposed that if the post office building on Main street is abandoned, that the town consider its acquisition as a civic center.

The selectmen responded that while the matter was worthy of consideration, it was premature, since no final decisions had been made on the postal facility.

Goodwin suggested that the building is architecturally sound and aesthetically compatible with the downtown area and would be conducive to use as a meeting place.

Lead Paint Clinic

The next lead paint poisoning blood testing clinic will be held April 7 from 10 to 11 a.m. in the board of health office, second floor of the town house.

Merchants To Give Seedlings

Paul J. Gmyrek

Paul Gmyrek has announced the observance of Arbor Day by the Andover Center Merchants to take place on Friday April 30, to tie in with National Arbor Day.

The Center Merchants have many activities planned for the day. The distribution of 3,000 seedlings of the Norway Spruce plant through the Center Merchants' stores will be the highlight of the day. The success of the 1975 observance has been noted as one of the few promotions to record so many favorable comments.

The Norway Spruce is one of the fastest growing of all Spruce. It has been known to grow in most sites except where soil is our or water-soaked. It develops strong branches covered with dark green, flat needles and makes excellent wind breakers, and we feel that this type of tree will be well received. Alex Milne is the person with the responsibility of bagging and distributing the seedlings.

There is consideration being given to planting a tree in a specific area as a contribution from the Center Merchants to the Town to commemorate Arbor Day 1976. The services of the soil conservationists of Essex Agricultural School to help us expand on an ecological program is also under consideration.

The planning committee working on the activities for the day are as follows: Paul Gmyrek, Alex Y. Milne, Jeffrey S. French, Charles McKew, Douglas Thompson and Charles Heseltine.

Tony Nicosia, who has operated the Lantern Brunch in Olde Andover Village, finishes up at the grill he has presided over for the past seven years. Nicosia and his wife Claire enter upon a life of retirement today as George Dukas takes over the business.

Tony Passes Lantern On To New Ownership

Anthony "Tony" Nicosia gently dimmed the lanterns and turned over his trusty spatula Wednesday to George Dukas at the Lantern Brunch in Olde Andover Village.

After over 36 years of serving the public, the last seven as proprietor of Lantern Brunch, Tony has decided to follow his wife Claire's advice and take it easy for a while.

Dukas, new owner of the popular eating establishment, took over today. He had been a partner in the Andover Spa for many years.

In many ways, Tony feels sorry about leaving his spot behind the grill where he has served thousands over the many years in the food business. "I'll miss the people. They've been very good to me these past seven years. The customers here have been wonderful - a very good clientele."

"But Claire has been urging me to take it a little easier and I guess I will for a while."

No definite plans for his retirement years at the moment other than to do a little travelling.

His wife has been his popular assistant at the village eating establishment and likewise has enjoyed working with and serving the people.

Tony started in the food business at the age of 19 and ran a luncheonette at Broadway and Lowell street in Lawrence for 28 years before he was forced ed to move by Urban Renewal. He also ran the Roma Bakery before coming to Andover seven years ago.

While he had thought about retirement for a year, the decision was made only recently when Dukas presented an interest.

"I've had seven full and happy years here and I wish the best to George and hope he will be successful and that the customers will treat him as nicely as they have me," Tony concluded.

The entries must be on paper 14 by 22 inches and child's name, address, age and phone number printed on the back.

All posters must be turned in to Memorial Hall Library by 5 p.m. Saturday, April 17. The winners will be notified by phone on Friday, April 23 and prizes for first, second and third, awarded at town meeting on April 26.

Police Chief David L. Nicoll was the first member to attend and graduate from the academy, being a member of the 61st class in 1958. Lt. Pattullo, a member of the Andover department since 1957, is a member of the 104th graduating class.

Pattullo is the first officer from this general area to attend the new academy in Quantico. The school was formerly located in Washington, D.C.

During the 11 week course, Lt. Pattullo specialized in law, management and behavioral sciences, sociology and psychology.

The intensive course conducted by Federal Bureau of

On the grounds are the facilities and classrooms for regular training courses for FBI agents. Many of the agents are taking in-service training along with the academy students.

There are 250 students per each class session.

Following application for enrollment in a course session, the waiting period can extend from several months to a few years, the demand is so high for the specific training courses.

Application is already being made to send other officers from Andover to the academy at subsequent class periods.

Pattullo was appointed to the department in April, 1955 and named a regular patrolman in June of 1957. He was promoted to sergeant in 1961 and made

Sacred Heart School Status

School Board Rejects Building

The Andover School Committee has once again voted unanimously against purchase of the Sacred Heart School -- for use as a school.

Most of the members, however, indicated Tuesday night that as private citizens, they were in favor of the town's purchasing the school property for some other use.

The Board of Selectmen had asked the school men to take a stand, so that they could do so themselves.

New chairman George Olesen asked for a roll call vote on the matter "to make it more official", and he got five "nays" to school use which Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert kept referring to as "the old American Woolen Company administration building."

Seifert said an architectural study had shown that it would take a minimum of $3 million -- and up to $3.8 million -- to get the old administration building in shape and build a new gymnasium.

"The present gym (Cardinal Cushing Gymnasium on Haverhill Street) is a dance hall, not a gymnasium," he said.

He added that superintendents have a tendency to look at "temporary" buildings as permanent, and that he had stood before the American Woolen Co. administration building and said, "Really, for the next 40 years is this what you and the town of Andover want for a school?"

After five years in the building, at a cost of millions, would the town be willing to give it up? he asked.

"East Junior High may crumble a little more in five years," he went on, "and the town might say 'move it over' to Sacred Heart."

"As a citizen of the town," Seifert said he would support the purchase, "but definitely not for a school -- not for the next five to seven years, or for the next 40 for that matter."

Frank Griggs said he felt the same way and Olesen added that according to statute, the school committee is the only body that can select the site of a school.

Even if town meeting votes for it, he said, "that doesn't make it a school."

Committeeman David Ahouse added a "me too" to the sentiment against school purchase of the property, though adding that the committee was in the "embarrassing" position of being without a solution to near-term overcrowding.

Olesen said he had a "strong feeling" it was possible to find a temporary solution within existing space, and added that if they bought Sacred Heart, they would also have the expense of another principal, secretary, custodians, utilities, and the like.

Selectmen Await Decision

The first step toward obtaining costs of the Sacred Heart School property was taken by Town Manager J. Maynard Austin Monday, when he met with the lawyers for the Brothers of Sacred Heart.

Austin said the lawyers are to come back with prices for the old school building, gymnasium, and land.

Three articles for purchase of the property have been placed on the town warrant, but are without price tags or Board of Selectmen support. The selectmen have been awaiting an updated school committee stand before they took one themselves.

The schoolmen voted last fall against using the old school and did so again Tuesday night.

Austin has said there is no other public need for the building -- it is not the proper location or size for use as a Town Hall, and purchase of the old Theatre Building gives the library sufficient room for the future.

Austin had earlier recommended that the selectmen consider aggressively assisting the Brothers in finding a commercial or residential buyer for the main building, returning that facility to the tax rolls.

The Friends of the Shawsheen Neighborhood Association, who have placed two of the articles on the warrant, are opposed to that tack. They now have gone on record favoring use of Sacred Heart as a school.

An Austin recommendation to create a small, official committee to assume leadership in the Sacred Heart matter, was also turned down by the Selectmen recently. They said they felt the first step was to get the current position of the school committee.

A third warrant article, seeking acquisition of the playing fields and gymnasium for conservation and recreation purposes, is sponsored by the Planning Board, Conservation Commission, and Recreation/Community Schools committee.

Shawsheen Group Sees School Use

The Friends of Shawsheen Neighborhood Association, who are sponsoring two articles for the purchase of the old Sacred Heart School, have concluded that the "most feasible use" of the property is for school purposes.

In an open letter to the selectmen, school committee and Andover residents, association president George J. Fantini, Jr., explained the group's reasons for asking the town to purchase the 28 acres, school building and gymnasium.

"There is an acknowledged need for additional classroom space," Fantini wrote, "and the use of the Sacred Heart buildings, among other alternatives, have been considered by the School Committee."

"But for reasons of their own, the School Committee has voted against acquiring the property."

Fantini said the school committee vote was based, however, on an acquisition price of $1.8 million, while a new appraisal sets value at $450,000 - $250,000 for the buildings and $200,000 for the land.

"Should Article 47 dealing with open space acquisitions, including the Sacred Heart School land be approved," he went on, "the buildings could possibly be available for as little as $250,000. At this figure, bonding for the acquisition over a five year period would amount to around 25 cents on the tax rate. Cost to renovate would, of course, be additional."

Fantini said the Association hoped to be in a position "of providing all relevant details on the floor of the Town Meeting."

"The issue of the Sacred Heart School property must be addressed on a timely basis and we are hopeful our sponsorship of Articles 48 and 49 will provide the forum to face the problem head on."

Earlier in the letter he had acknowledged that "the looming increase in real estate taxes will doubtlessly bring about some resistance to adopting our warrant articles unless we can demonstrate in a convincing fashion that what they propose is feasible."

After making the school proposal he concluded that the group was "optimistic" that a solution would be arrived at that would "benefit all concerned".

Thomas Leavitt

Hospital History Published

The publication of the history of the first one hundred years of Lawrence General Hospital took place recently in the Main Lobby of the Hospital at an Author's Party to honor the noted local author Thomas W. Leavitt, who wrote "Mill Owners and Missionaries: A History of Lawrence General Hospital."

Ashton Smith, Lawrence General Hospital President, announced that the book had been dedicated at a ceremony in the Hospital held just prior to the official publication, to Atty. Arthur Sweeney, a noted local attorney and long-time friend of the Hospital. Members of Mr. Sweeney's family and other close friends were present. Mr. Smith read the dedicatory remarks as contained in the book, which in part said, "This history of the first one hundred years of Lawrence General Hospital is dedicated by the Centennial Committee, with cordial endorsement of the author, to Arthur Sweeney, whose good works and wise counsel have guided and assisted Lawrence General Hospital for forty-five years since 1930 — first as a member of the Advisory Board, then as Trustee and counsel, now as Honorary Trustee."

Alton W. Noyes, LGH Vice President, announced the official publication of the book, and noted that this event was part of the Hospital's year-long Centennial Celebration.

Mr. Leavitt began research for the book during the summer of 1974, and during the past year, with the help of his wife, Mary, who served as research assistant, he searched in Hospital archives, local newspapers, and public records for answers to the questions which must be asked of a century-old community institution.

What is reported here, I hope, is an explanation of the origins of the institution and a hint as to how it adapted successfully to constant change in the community it serves," said Mr. Leavitt in the Preface to the book.

Mr. Leavitt has been director of the Merrimack Valley Textile Museum in North Andover since 1964. He is a professor in the American Studies program at Boston University. His services to numerous historical organizations includes acting as president of the Bay State Historical League, president of the New England Museums Conference, and vice-president of the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities. He is on the editorial board of a variety of historical journals and has published widely.

"Mill Owners and Missionaries: A History of Lawrence General Hospital" was published with funds made available from the White Fund of Lawrence. The book was designed by Malcolm Gear Designers of Providence, Rhode Island.

Persons wishing to obtain a copy of the book may do so by sending a check for $5 to the Public Relations Office at the Hospital.

The Benjamin Abbot House

Restoration Funds Allocated

The Benjamin Abbot House on Andover street, one of Andover's oldest homes, has been designated as eligible for $5,500 in restoration and preservation funds by the Massachusetts Historical Commission.

The home, listed in the National Register, is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Demers, and is the only Andover residence so designated and eligible to qualify for grants.

Demers explains that the allocation by the Historical Commission must be matched for work approved by the commission on the historical home.

In order to qualify for the funds, specifications must be drawn up, consultants conferred with before the final approval by the Mass. Historical Commission.

The home, believed to have been built about 1685, is in need of some restoration work such as repair of rafters in the attic, some work on the foundation which has partially deteriorated in one portion, and the cedar shingles on the roof need replacement.

Should the work be approved and the current owners match the grant, when exterior work is performed a sign will have to be placed in front of the home, indicating that the government is participating in the restoration work.

The designation in the National Register not only makes the property eligible for grants, but also provides protection for the buildings and grounds from anything that would detract from its historical value.

The Andover grant was among the $827,000 in funds to be allocated by the Mass. Historical Commission from the National Park Service to 117 historic sites in 65 communities across the state.

Appointed Regional Education Councillors

"The Massachusetts Department of Education has gone one step further than other states in establishing a regional education council in each of its six regional areas," Gregory Anrig, Commissioner of Education, stated today in announcing the appointment of scores of council members by the state Board of Education. "The councils are expected to strengthen state-wide public school education and help bring the department closer to the people it serves," Anrig added.

Although including both professional educators, other professionals and students, each council consists primarily of laypeople.

Each council is expected to (a) propose to the Department of Education plans for public school education in the region, (b) reflect the views of the various organizations represented by its membership, (c) suggest priorities, (d) recommend and support legislation and regulations, (e) help interpret existing legislation to the public, and (f) give support to local education.

Although each of the councils will operate separately, they expect to exchange information

Championship Team Members

Named BWL All-Stars

Two members of the Andover Buddy Werner Ski League have been named to the All-Star team of 1976, according to the Eastern Ski Association, sponsor of the amateur ski league for youngsters age nine to 13.

Tina Sutton, eight, was the third place female in the nine and under age category at the BWL championship slalom races held at Pat's Peak, Henniker, N.H. recently.

Jana Caldwell, ten, was the second place female in the 10-11 age category in the championship slalom races.

The All-Star team is comprised of the top five girls and the top five boys in each of the three age categories of the league as determined by their performances in the championship slalom races.

A delegation from Eastern Mass. was the winner of the Robert Thompson trophy for best team performance at the championship.

Babe Ruth Tryouts Set For Playstead

The Andover Babe Ruth baseball team will conduct its pre-season tryouts on Saturday, April 17 and Easter Sunday, April 18 from 1 p.m. to approximately 3:30 p.m. both days at the large Playstead Field behind East Junior High.

If a third tryout is necessary it will be staged on Saturday, April 24 from 1-3:30 p.m. at the Playstead, and rain dates will be April 24-25 at the same time and site. 15 are eligible as long as they will not turn 16 years of age prior to August 1, 1976.

The Andover team competes in the eight-member Greater-Lawrence Babe Ruth League against North Andover, Methuen, and Lawrence entries from Tower Hill, South Lawrence East, Prospect Hill, South Lawrence West and North Lawrence.

The league plays a 21-game schedule beginning the first week of June and running through late July. The post-season playoffs, involving the top four clubs, follow during the first two weeks of August.

There are also All-Star teams chosen in July, one encompassing 13-15 year olds and one just for 13-year-old players.

The G-L 'Stars have advanced as far as the State Tournament in past seasons, while the first Greater-Lawrence 13-year-old All-Star squad last season won the State title and went all the way to the New England Tournament championship game before losing a 5-4 heartbreaker to Westfield.

Andover players Bill Stahley, Larry Larrabee and Pete Feeney were members of that team, and Manager Rick Harrison was one of three coaches.

Although league championships have been infrequent for Andover, there have been some and the local team has the enviable record of qualifying for the post-season playoffs during 21 of the past 22 years. The club also has fashioned a winning record 21 of the last 22 seasons.

The overall record during the last two campaigns, counting all games, has been 43-16-1. It was 21-8-1 two years ago and 22-8 last summer.

An annual highlight of the season for the past two years has been a trip to Montreal, Canada in early July during the All-Star break.

It began with a one-day journey to view a Montreal Expos' game, and evolved last year into a four-day excursion which included two games against youth teams from Montreal, a visit to the Man-and-His-World exhibit, an Expos' game and other activities.

Andover was fortunate enough to sweep its two games in Canada last July, outslugging St. Henri 11-3 and edging an All-Star team of 16 and 17-year-old players 5-3 behind the pitching of now-graduated Mike Henderson.

Plans are underway to make a third trip to Montreal this year, hopefully to play two or three games, take in an Expos-Cincinnati Reds game, visit Man-and-His-World and perhaps tour the site of the 1976 Summer Olympics.

While in Canada the team hopes to reside at McGill University.

All youngsters trying out for the team and not making it will be encouraged to play Senior League ball in town.

For further information, interested candidates may contact Managers Rick Harrison or Fred Serley.

The Nichols House Museum, whose design is attributed to Charles Bulfinch, is open at 55 Mount Vernon St., Beacon Hill.

Andover Youth Basketball League Results

Old Man Winter put a big dent in the AYBL's schedule a couple of weeks ago and the town elections put a dent in the league's press coverage last week. As the season winds to a close, the races remain as tight as ever. As of Tuesday, only the Senior Division has an undisputed champion. The Lakers wrapped up the title with an outstanding record of 15 victories and no losses. The Celtics and the Jazz tied for second place and are scheduled to play off. In the Majors, Dartmouth and Villanova tied for that division's 2nd-half crown. They were scheduled to play off Tuesday night at A.H.S. In the Minor Division, the Panthers wrapped up the division's second-half championship with a 7-0 record and extended their winning streak to twelve. The Panthers are scheduled to meet the first-half champion Lions in a playoff Wednesday night at E.J.H.S.

All Star Teams

The league announced its All Star teams which will participate in this week's AYBL Invitational Tournament. Scott Johnson

Puts Team In Playoffs

The Babson College Ski team recently concluded its 1976 season in a strong enough position to be invited to the New England Intercollegiate Ski Conference championships on the strength of the work of Scott Johnson of Andover.

Babson, competing in the Thompson division of the NEISC, qualified in the final meet of the regular season with Johnson winning the final race of the day to defeat New Hampshire College.

Johnson's contributions were felt by the team all season. The sophomore skied consistently well in the slalom and giant slalom and aided the team with excellent race results.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Johnson of 25 Ballard-vale Road, he is a 1973 graduate of Andover High School.

Bantams Belt Methuen

By Rick Harrison

The fast-finishing Andover Bantam A traveling hockey team brought its successful 1975-76 season to a close last week, belting the Methuen Bantams 7-0 in the final game at Merrimack College.

The victory enabled Coach Dick Neal's crew, which entered the month of March eight games below the .500 mark, to close out the campaign riding the crest of a 10-game undefeated string (9-0-1).

Andover thus completed its 34-game schedule with a winning 16-15-3 overall record, although the only other time the locals were on the plus side of the ledger was following a season-opening 9-4 romp over Durham, N.H. last Dec. 29.

During the team's impressive 10-game unbeaten streak, which kept its record unsoiled for the entire March stretch run, Andover outscored the opposition by a cavernous 61-14 margin.

The shutout conquest of Methuen was the second straight blank job by the locals . . . and their second of the entire season.

For the complete campaign Neal's sextet outscored the enemy, 158-125.

Top marksman Paul Farnham and Wayne Merola sparked the triumph over Methuen with two goals and two assists apiece.

Len Driscoll and John Sagaser chipped in a goal and one assist each, while Ken Southworth added his fourth red-lighter in the final four games.

Joe Cammarata and defenseman Dean Robinson passed out two assists apiece, and rounding out the parade with solo helpers were Joe Cahill, Mike Anderson, recently-elevated rear-guard Brian Kelly and Steve Morin.

Dave Cullinan went the distance in goal for the shutout, and it was his first as a Bantam coming on the heels of Todd Bateson's 5-0 blank job against Salem, N.H.

Andover was whistled for nine penalties in the game, but had little trouble killing the disadvantages to preserve the whitewash.

Cancelled

Two other games, both slated with the Assabet Valley Bantams, were cancelled by mutual agreement.

Break-Up Dinner

The Andover Bantam A team will stage its annual "Break-Up Dinner" tomorrow evening at the Lanam Club, at which time several awards will be presented to squad members by Coaches Dick Neal, Paul McNamara, Sr., and Paul McNamara, Jr.

Howie Zussman

Named At Bridgton

Howie Zussman, son of Rhoda Zussman of 68 Sunset Rock Road, has just recently been appointed assistant director of athletics, assistant baseball coach, along with teaching U.S. History at Bridgton Academy.

Bridgton is a "post-graduate" school, basically for those boys who need one more year before entering the college of their choice.

Mr. Zussman, an alumnus of Bridgton in 1972, was named co-captain along with being chosen second line right winger to the All-Prep hockey team. After graduation, he attended Northeastern University where he played for two years with the Huskies, under Head Coach Fern Flaman. His middler year at N.U., he was sidelined with a shoulder operation. Unable to play, he coached with the Stoneham Redwings, a Junior "A" team, under the leadership of Dick McGlynn, ex-Chicago Cougar and ex-New England Whaler goaltender, Billy Bergund. Unfortunately, the team had to disband, due to financial problems. Just recently, Mr. Zussman finished up a successful season with Andover High School, under Head Coach Peter Anderson and assistant coach Bob King.

During these past years, Howie has been active with both the Andover Hockey Association and Andover's Little League Program.

St. Robert's Tops The Field

By Rick Harrison

St. Robert's made a clean sweep of all the top honors in the Senior Division of the Andover Church Basketball League, adding the playoff championship to its regular-season title following a 55-34 victory over St. Augustine A in their final showdown at the West Junior High gym.

The win was the 12th straight following an opening night loss for St. Robert's, which closed the campaign with the ACBL's top record of 12-1 including three consecutive playoff triumphs.

St. Augustine A, which split a pair of post-season contests, finished at 7-5 overall.

Never Trailed

St. Robert's, hitting 22-of-51 fieldgoal attempts in the game, never trailed but didn't really break things open until the third quarter.

The champs jumped ahead 15-8 in the first period, sparked by Brian Rockwell and Scott Praetz with five and four points respectively. Jim Hayes and Bob Beaudine countered with four markers apiece for St. Augustine A.

The runners-up swished five free throws during the second quarter, keying a 9-7 point edge to reduce the difference to 22-17 at halftime.

However, in the third session Senior Division scoring king John McNamara started to find the range as St. Robert's pulled away for good.

Held to five points in the first half, McNamara erupted for 10 in the pivotal third period as St. Robert's managed a 16-5 scoring spread for an insurmountable 38-22 lead. Included in McNamara's binge was a perfect 4-for-4 effort at the charity stripe.

The fourth quarter shootout saw St. Robert's add to its bulge with a 17-12 run, powered by Rich Marciano with seven points and Scott Praetz with five. Bob Beaudine's four guided the well-balanced answering fire for St. Augustine A.

Scoring

John McNamara scaled double figures for the 13th consecutive game, emerging as game-high marksman with 18 points including 6-of-8 from the foul line.

The lefty shooter thus finished the playoffs with 51 points in three contests, a 17.0 average, while for the complete year he netted 177 points.

The St. Robert's attack featured eight players, and tossing through 9 points apiece were Scott Praetz, Brian Rockwell and Rich Marciano.

Steve Leitch stuffed 4 points and single buckets were scored by Frank Branco, Dan Saunders and Greg Praetz.

Coach Bob French also cited the defensive play of Rockwell and Leitch, while Tom Daley was another notable for the champs.

St. Augustine A was led by superb overall performances from Jim Hayes and Bob Beaudine.

Hayes poured in 10 points and did some strong rebounding off both boards, while Beaudine flipped through 10 points and played a fine floor game.

Dan Russo contributed 5 points, Bob Oelwang 4, Terry Schwing 3 and Rich Gusmini had a fourth quarter basket.

Also playing well were Joe Torrisi, Tim Doran and Dave Gusmini.

St. Robert's held a 22-11 advantage in fieldgoal connections, and the champs converted 11-of-20 free throws while St. Augustine hit 12 charities.

Road To Finals

St. Robert's advanced to the playoff championship with earlier wins over Ballardvale United, 39-25, and South Church, 51-21.

St. Augustine A enjoyed a first round bye, then slipped past Free Church 34-24 in the semifinals.

The tourney doubleheader opens at 6:45 p.m. with an Intermediate Division (ages 10-12) game between Methuen and St. Mary's of Lawrence, while the 8 p.m. Senior Division (ages 13-15) nightcap matches the Burlington Red Devils against the Windham, N.H. Green Machine.

The single-elimination tournament, which attracted a field of seven Intermediate clubs and eight Senior teams, will continue on Friday night with the conclusion of the quarterfinal rounds at both the West Junior High and High School gyms.

In the Intermediate Division on Friday, the North Andover Boosters battle the Chelmsford Town Team at 6:30 p.m. at West Junior High, while the Andover Church League All-Stars face Framingham at 6:30 p.m. in the high school.

The host AYBL All-Stars drew a first round bye.

Senior Division action Friday night features a twinbill at the high school, as Methuen duels the Chelmsford Centurions at 7:45 p.m., and the AYBL All-Stars face Tewksbury at 9 p.m.

The remaining Senior quarter-final pits the Lawrence Boys' Club against Framingham at 9 p.m. Friday at the West Junior High.

The Intermediate Division semifinals will be played Saturday afternoon at 12:30 p.m. and 2 p.m. at Andover High, while the Senior Division semis follow at 3:30 and 5 p.m. Saturday at the high school.

The Intermediate survivors collide for the title Sunday at 5 p.m. at Andover High, while the Senior championship game is Sunday at 6:45 o'clock at the high school.

Volleyball Tourney Champs Crowned

THE TOWNSMAN, APRIL 1, 1976

Semifinal and final matches of the Recreation - Community Schools Town Volleyball Tourney were played March 23 at the West Junior High.

In the Adult Division, the YMCA "B" team met the Tired Tomahawks in a semifinal match. After the YMCA "B" team won the first game, 15-8, the Tomahawks fought back to take the second game 15-13. In the third and final game the Tomahawks went on the warpath jumping out to a 6-0 lead but living up to their names they tuckered out dropping the game 15-10.

The YMCA "B" team met the YMCA "A" team in the finals as the "A" team breezed by the West Juniors in their semifinal match 15-5, 15-0.

The "B" team went on to win the Adult division taking two straight from the "A" team 15-9 and 16-4.

In high school division action the Pythons emerged tournament winners after a tough battle with the Midgets in the semifinals and a hard nosed fight with the Spikers in the finals.

The Midgets "never say die" playing attitude almost put them in the finals as their match went the full three games. After losing the first game 15-6 they fought back to take the second game 15-6 but fell short of advancing to the finals, dropping the third game 15-9. After the game Joey Brotz suggested that perhaps next year a new division be added to the tournament for players under five feet tall.

Spiker showed Team that they should have listened to teammate Laura Rosen who called a practice earlier in the week but was the only one who showed up. According to the tournament experts, that was the big factor contributing to the 15-10, 15-8 losses handed to them by the Spikers. Spiker Mark Ketzler disagreed with the experts as he claimed Team "could have practiced all month and it wouldn't have helped them."

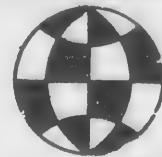

In the finals the Pythons regained their poise taking the first game 15-11 and winning the second game 10-5 as time ran out. Python captain, Bob Hoelzel, confirmed reports that scouts from San Jose State were at the game closely watching his teams play as they may be useful in next year's games against UCLA.

while taking a shower, was heard to say "I never won anything before."

Reliable sources indicate after the game Dave Mirisola accepted a 4 year volleyball scholarship at UCLA. Bob Moynihan, clutching his trophy

Tim Newhouse, obviously exhausted by the mental strain of the tourney, commented "I'm happy it's all over, now I can concentrate on my homework."

In an effort to acquaint the public, laity and clergy with the Middlesex and Essex jails, GLEAM (Greater Lawrence Ecumenical Area Ministry) and Lowell-based EASE (Emergency Adjustment Services to Ex-offenders) have been six months in preparing for the conference. Rev. James Keller of GLEAM and Russ Carmichael of EASE have been lining up an impressive list of resource people with Mrs. Sarah Newall of Lawrence and Tom Call, West Parish, from the GLEAM board actively involving laity and clergy in the greater Lowell-Lawrence Area.

Since January local church people have been involved in planning while during the past week Andover churches have been pre-registering participants. Those local church people are: Andover Bible Chapel, Robert Lenes; Ballard Vale United, Mrs. David Hollenbeck; Baptist, Rev. Earl Robinson and Kenneth Thompson; Christ Church, Mrs. Edward Chateaufort; Faith Lutheran, Joan Novak; St. Augustine, Mrs. Wyley Robinson; St. Roberts, Warren Kearns; South Parish, Rev. Everett Bodge; Unitarian Universalist, Mrs. Stanley Ostrowski; West Parish, Tom Call.

West Parish youth will be serving the noon meal prepared and planned by Mrs. Willard Robinson. Although pre-registration is not required it is obviously desirable for planning purposes. Full day attendance is recommended but participants are also welcome to attend for part of the day.

The program includes: registration 8:30 (coffee and doughnuts), 9:30 films "Intent to Harm" and "How Many Years", 10:30 small group "rap" sessions with ex-offenders, noon meal, 1 p.m. interview of Superior Court Judge Arthur Williams by Atty. Maxa Berid, an ex-offender, and clergy, 2 p.m. video-tape presentation on Essex County jails by EASE, 3 p.m. panel on the county correctional system including sheriffs John Buckley, Middlesex, and Robert Cahill, Essex, plus ex-offenders. 4:30 suggested alternatives and wrap-up. Moderator for the day will be the Rev. Dr. James A. Nash, executive director of the Massachusetts Council of Churches.

Fauré's Requiem At South

Appropriate to the Lenten Season, the Sanctuary Choir of South Church in Andover will present "The Requiem" by Gabriel Faure during the sermon period at the worship service on Sunday, April 4 at 10:30 a.m.

The choir will be accompanied by a small string orchestra from Phillips Academy and soloists Jan Lickfelt and Ed Parker.

"The Requiem" is the great masterpiece of a composer whose music many regard as an exemplification of the French national qualities of grace and refinement. This work was begun by Faure to express his sense of personal loss on the death of his father. During its composition, his mother also died, and so it can be said that the content of the music reflects very clearly the reactions of a sensitive Christian musician of impeccable taste to profound emotional experience.

To Perform At Conference

Edward P. Grigoli, program advisor, Andover Public Schools, Music Dept., announces that the High School A Cappella Choir has been selected, after competitive auditions, to perform at the Massachusetts Music Educators Association State conference, at the Governor Carver's Inn in Plymouth, Mass. The performance will be April 8 at 4 p.m. All those who wish to attend are welcome. The A Cappella Choir is a group that performs throughout the Merrimack Valley at nursing homes, hospitals, clubs, etc. Keith Gould and J. Everett Collins are the conductors, Mrs. Maxine Calt, accompanist.

Meeting Guide Provided

"The Committee To Improve Town Meeting" will offer A Guide To Town Meeting Procedures especially directed to the attention of newcomers to the Andover community.

The booklet covers such matters as place and time of voter registration, the relation of town meeting to town government, the roles of the moderator, the various town committees and boards, and the voters themselves, together with an elementary outline of town meeting procedures.

While it contains little that is new to long-time Andover residents and town meeting buffs, the hope is that persons unfamiliar with the town meeting system of government may, through a reading, feel somewhat more comfortable attending town meeting.

Copies of the booklet will be at the town clerk's office and Memorial Library at no charge beginning April 9. Because this will be a continuing effort readers are urged to send their criticisms - constructive and destructive - to F.P. Fitzgerald, 96 Central St., Andover, Mass. 01810.

Previously he has held posts as organist-choirmaster at All Saints Church, Chelmsford, Christ Church, Andover, and was the first full-time Music Director at Brooks School, North Andover, where he established the music department. Yes, it does. Because the healing Principle taught and practiced by Christ Jesus can apply to anyone at any time. New proofs of its healing power occur every day. Healing in Christian Science means much more than physical release. It means a victory over fear. A clearer understanding of self, and of yourself.

You're invited to learn more at our Sunday service. The Bible Lesson you'll hear will explain more of how Christian Science heals.

Mouse To Roar At Andover

The Andover High School Drama Club will present "The Mouse That Roared", April 9 and 10 at 8 p.m. in the West Junior High School Auditorium.

This "uproarious" comedy includes music and dance and is about a tiny fictional country in Central Europe called Grand Fenwick, where the main industry is growing and crushing grapes.

A most improbable set of circumstances makes this the most bloodless and funniest war ever fought.

A Noble Experiment At The End Of The Line

Andover's noble experiment in continued rail transportation between here and Boston is doomed to failure despite some valiant efforts of local citizens.

The selectmen Monday night, acting on information at hand, recommendations of both the town manager and members of the Andover Rail Committee, voted, in effect, to terminate the service because of continuing spiralling costs.

The plight of rail commuter service is a sad one for, indeed, it terminates an avenue for mass transit to Boston, and discounting such factors as energy conservation and pollution, leaves local citizenry with only a bus or a car to get to the core city.

Not that the once-a-day train was that much of a substantial assist to the transit problems in this area, but it was there, and expansion of service at some future date remained a possibility.

Termination of service well could spell the end of the line for passenger rail service to Andover and beyond, depending on what Lawrence and Haverhill decide in the wake of the Andover action.

Blame for the end of the rail service can be placed safely at the combined efforts of the Boston and Maine railroad and the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority.

In a swirl of amazing inefficiency, the state's major mass transportation system is allowed to operate almost free of any effective management procedures.

Cost-killing maintenance operations on the Budd cars that served the Andover commuter route were primarily responsible for the increased costs of transportation to Andover this year.

Apparently, the Boston and Maine did the repairs and simply passed the bills on to the MBTA, which apportioned them to this area.

The result, an excess of $10,000 over the town's appropriation this year.

For the year ahead town officials must figure a cost of $35,000 for the service.

Reluctantly, even the Rail Committee members agreed that this was too much to ask Andover taxpayers to pay.

For the ARC group, it was a difficult comment to make after over a year and a half of concerted effort to retain the train in Andover.

But, they are to be commended for their forthrightness in the matter.

Headed by Atty. Robert S. Zollner and Warren Lewis, ARC worked with MBTA officials this past year, exploring the possibility of increasing service to this area.

Prior to that, they formed the group which put up funds to assure continued train service until voters could act on the matter at town meeting.

Throughout the period, the ARC group monitored the train service and continually met with MBTA officials to oversee the cost factors.

The bad news was forthcoming this week, and they reacted properly to it, recognizing that while the train service was desirable, it was unfair to ask Andover taxpayers to underwrite the apparently uncontrollable costs.

The decision, of course, leaves the Trombly Motor Coach service as the only mass transit conveyor to Boston.

It was suggested Monday night that the firm should be monitored to be sure that effective and efficient service is maintained.

We would suggest that while monitoring might be good, based on past performance, the Trombly service will continue to be good for the area.

When the MBTA extended its tentacles to embrace the Eastern Mass. Street Railway bus service in the area, which would have resulted in Andover's paying subsidies, Trombly was ready to offer local and commuter service.

The service was initiated the day Eastern Mass. left and hasn't cost the taxpayers a cent, while those communities in the MBTA district continue to pay staggering annual costs to maintain service.

The buses on the Boston line are of the luxury type, warm in winter, air conditioned in summer, and maintain a good running schedule.

In one of this winter's major snow storms, the Trombly bus ran while the commuter train did not.

The MBTA-Band M. termination of service could be within the week, despite requests that it continue further for the convenience of those using the train to find alternate transportation.

We feel confident that the Trombly service will be expanded to accommodate the train riders the day after the service ends.

And, it won't cost the taxpayers a cent in their annual real estate assessments.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago - April, 1901

Good time was made by the fire department in responding to an alarm in the center of town on Saturday. Jeweler J.E. Whiting, who times the department, reports that the horses were in the barn and the truck hitched and at the scene within a minute and a half. The horses for the hose wagon were in the square, but reached the engine house and were at the scene in two minutes flat.

Henry A. Barnard purchased the property of George A. Smith on High street Saturday afternoon for a price of $4,750.

It is understood that the street lighting committee has completed negotiations with the Andover Electric Light Company and a satisfactory contract will result in lighting the town.

The Marland Mills were shut down Monday and part of Tuesday due to a boiler breakdown. It was determined that a break in the boiler needed repair and the workers were sent home rather than continuing efforts in the cold.

Supt. of Streets Lovejoy has been engaged by the state engineer to roll the state highway in town for the entire length as soon as the new road roller arrives.

50 Years Ago - April, 1926

The Andover Fire Department held their monthly meeting Wednesday night in the meeting rooms at Central station.

The board of public works awarded several contracts at its meeting Monday night. Percy J. Dole was awarded the contract for hauling water pipe to the Corbett street extension project at the rate of $2 per ton. Bids for 100 tons of soft coal saw the Cross Coal Co. at $7.80 per ton as the low bidder.

The trustees of Memorial Hall Library have made arrangements to store books in the lower portion of town hall and in a vacant store by Barnard street, during building renovations.

The parish house committee of Christ Church announced plans this week for a drive to secure funds for an addition to the building.

Walter H. Coleman of the street lighting committee has requested any resident of the town spotting a light not burning to notify him at home by telephone or by sending a post card.

25 Years Ago - April, 1951

Supt. of Schools Kenneth L. Sherman, Charles C. Kimball and Miss Catherine Barrett, participate in ground breaking ceremonies for new elementary school.

Construction in Andover continues to boom, as March totals push the year's new building figures to $207,000.

The Central School grades will be placed on a single session during the construction of the new school at the Bartlet street site.

Stanley F. Swanton was elected chairman of the Andover Housing Authority at its organizational meeting this week.

Grading and resurfacing of the parking lot at the rear of the junior high school was completed this week by the public works department.

10 Years Ago - April, 1966

Newly named Chairman of the school committee Dr. Louis J. Galbiati asks his colleagues to become experts in educational matters.

School committee approves summer school plan which this year will provide a program of both enrichment and remedial courses.

Water bills issued beginning in April will reflect the new rates which were approved and stipulates a $2 fee for a minimum of 7,000 cubic feet.

The water ban will continue in effect for the next few months, according to Town Manager Richard J. Bowen.

Work on the new tax equalization program will begin shortly as soon as the contract is executed with the firm of Whipple, Magane and Darcy of Andover.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

The International Deadbeats

by Jack Anderson
with Joe Spear

WASHINGTON — The American people have been the most generous in history. But we might be excused if we now ask ourselves whether it has been worth it.

Since the end of World War II, we have rained dollars on the needy and the greedy alike. The total economic and military aid has now reached a staggering $168 billion. This is the greatest financial fallout of all time.

The money has gone to support opposite sides in the same war, to prop up corrupt dictators, to underwrite nations which hold us in outright contempt. By the most conservative count, at least 34 military and civilian dictatorships around the world.

Take just one of them — Uganda's Idi Amin. He has expelled Americans from his country, detained Peace Corps volunteers and sent insulting telegrams to our presidents. So what have we done about it? Why, we've rewarded him, of course, with more than $43 million.

American aid has gone to 134 nations and eight territories. Only about $18 billion have been paid back. That's less than $1 billion repaid for every $10 billion paid out. And some of the worst deadbeats are some of the world's most solvent nations.

Millions are still owed to us, for example, by the oil sheikdoms. Saudi Arabia has been piling up oil profits literally faster than it can spend the money. Yet the Saudis still owe us $38 million from the past.

The shah of Iran has been awash in petroleum. He has squandered his oil millions on weapons, palaces and jewelry. But he still hasn't paid $165 million that he owes Washington.

This is an election year and our politicians are railing against government spending. It should be a good year, therefore, for foreign aid cuts.

But politicians apparently their own speeches. America's Bicentennial budget for the world is another whopping $4.7 billion. And, as usual, the money will go to friend and foe, to the just and the unjust alike.

Here at home, meanwhile, crime is running rampant, drug addiction has become epidemic, thousands are dying from cancer and heart disease. These problems might be less troublesome if they could receive the same attention we give foreign nations.

Watch on Waste: The Navy, according to insiders, has too many tugboats. This has been confirmed by government accountants who conducted a confidential audit of the Navy's multimillion-dollar tugboat operations. We have obtained a copy of their confidential report.

"During a recent survey of the Navy's port service fleet operations," it says, "we noted more tugboats are operated than can be economically justified." The auditors claimed that more efficient tugboat management could save as much as $245,000 at the Treasure Island, Calif., naval station alone.

Restless bureaucrats also waste a lot of money trading offices. It's a never-ending game that might be called "musical offices."

For example, the Health Resources Administration packed up and moved seven years ago to offices near the National Institutes of Health. The justification was that it needed to be closer to its parent agency.

But now, the Health Resources Administration is preparing to move again to offices some 15 miles away from the parent agency. A confidential document estimates the move will require the employees to travel an extra 10,000 miles daily. That's nearly two and a half million additional miles a year.

A spokesman told us the move would cost $180,000. But our sources say it is more likely to run over $1 million, after all the relocation expenses are added up.

The move, of course, is part of another game of "musical offices." Health Resources is moving into offices which the Navy is vacating. The Navy people, in turn, are moving to new offices 10 miles away.

Meanwhile, the Food and Drug Administration has its eye on the offices that Health Resources is vacating. In another seven years, they'll probably do it all over again.

At Fort Lyons, Colo., the chief of the Veterans Administration psychiatric hospital just spent $12,721.91 to fix up his living quarters. His name is James Parsons. He decided he needed new wallpaper, a paint job and new bathroom fixtures. So he spent the taxpayers' money to spruce up his place. A spokesman said the renovations were authorized.

Colby's Cronies: The appointment of George Bush as the new CIA director stirred up a front-page controversy. But the public hasn't heard a word about him since he disappeared into the bosom of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Our CIA sources tell us he has been hit by so many urgent problems every day that he hasn't had time to catch his breath. The problems have been caused by the CIA revelations, which have had repercussions throughout the subterranean world of espionage. A new crisis is dumped on Bush's desk as fast as he gets rid of the old ones.

But his biggest problem was caused by his predecessor, William Colby, who left his cronies behind in the key jobs. After Colby learned he would be bounced out of the CIA, he hastily promoted his pals and installed them in the best available jobs.

Colby has made a lot of speeches about the low morale at the CIA. Nothing has hurt morale worse than his own misuse of power to take care of his friends.

What Our Readers Say-

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN

I must compliment you (Edward Grigoli, director of music) and your music department publicly for the most enjoyable All Schools Concert on Thursday, March 18. I don't think enough is said about music in Andover and therefore, would like to inform the editor and readers of this newspaper that the Andover School Band on an Exchange Concert in New York received a standing ovation and our Andover School Chorus will perform for the state convention.

This is our third year attending this annual concert and look forward to many more.

I must also compliment your music teachers Miss Palmer, Mr. Minkinen and Mr. Graceffa on their dedication and performance even through the sticky "teacher slowdown". They continued as usual as far as my children were concerned. It was much appreciated by my family.

I urge you to continue your concerts and perhaps expand them, because the education both my children and myself have received from the discipline and dedication that goes into being a musician and being around them is very worthwhile.

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN
Congratulations to the non-voters of Andover. You've done it again. You, the all too silent majority, have stayed in your comfortable homes, letting a beautiful election day pass you by without taking just a few minutes to exercise your most important, most precious democratic right -- the right to vote.

All of the ingredients were there -- two hotly contested races dealing with important issues for our town and its schools. Candidates worked hard, going the "coffee" route, and appearing in force in the downtown area to stimulate interest in their candidacies, and therefore in voting. Many people contributed time, money and energy in the interest of their favorite candidates. A larger than usual turnout appeared at the League of Women Voters Candidates Night and at other public forums. The local papers each featured candidates' questionnaires. There was good opportunity to talk with most of the candidates and to make up one's mind.

But, instead, those thousands of people, who once took the time to get themselves registered, could not follow through by taking a quick trip to the local polling place. I find this a disturbing trend in our town. One wonders what would happen if the right to vote were denied us. Would we fight against the tyrannical force which disenfranchised us? We are all making a big fuss about the upcoming Bicentennial observance -- but we have just missed the best way to celebrate. The patriots of 1776 fought for the right to govern themselves. In Andover, on March 22, 1976, nearly 9,000 people abdicated that right.

And, anyone who feels that his or her vote doesn't count should look at this year's results -- only two votes separate a winner and a loser!

To Maintain Full Downtown Postal Service

While location of a site for a new Andover postal facility remains "negotiable" this week, assurance has been given the town that full customer facilities will be available in the downtown area.

George Walker, regional administrator for the postal service, informed local officials at a special meeting at the state house on Monday, and informed the TOWNSMAN this week, that the department intends to continue to maintain full service, including boxes in the downtown area, when present facility is abandoned.

Until recently, only window service for sale of stamps and processing of parcel post material was to be provided when the post office moved from the present site. This week, there is assurance that the boxes will be available, which was among the concerns of local residents, should the post office be moved to the proposed Andover street site.

Walker also said he was still awaiting further action by the Andover selectmen on alternate sites to the Andover street location - the acreage owned by Sidney P. White diagonally across from his dairy bar, and American Power Devices plant.

The regional director told the TOWNSMAN Wednesday that an April 1 deadline on the proposing of alternate sites was not a firm one for the moment, and that an extension of time had been granted.

"But right now the Andover street is the most viable one for location of a new postal processing plant," Walker said.

Recognizing that there has been considerable opposition to the Andover street site, Walker said, "it certainly shows that Andover is an interested community."

A special meeting of interested groups, opposing the Andover street location, was scheduled for Wednesday night.

Frank Demers, who owns the Benjamin Abbot House a short distance from the Andover street location, said that representatives of the League of Women Voters, planning board, and other town officials were to meet to map plans to block the building of the facility at the White location on which the government has a lease-purchase agreement. The agreement reportedly will expire at the end of April.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin attended the meeting at the State House on Monday, called by the state office of planning and Lt. Gov. Thomas P. O'Neill to assist in opposing the relocation of the post office to Andover street.

The meeting was in keeping with the new Growth Policy program of the state.

Lt. Gov. O'Neill, who is in charge of state-federal relations for the Commonwealth, intervened in the matter on the theory that support for local communities should be forthcoming on matters such as this, Austin said.

Also, it is the contention of the state and the growth policy committee that state and federal agencies should be a part of downtown or core areas in communities and construction should not be taking place in fringe areas.

Walker told those at the meeting, which was initiated by Andover State Rep. Gerald Cohen, that no final decision would be made before informing the selectmen.

He also would not grant a firm date on the extension of time for an Andover decision. Originally, the deadline was set for April 1.

Pomps Building Construction Begins

Construction for the new Pomps Pond bathhouse is presently underway under prime contract to the Langlois Construction Company of Methuen. The Recreation-Community Schools Committee is planning an opening on or about June 30.

The bathhouse will be a concrete and cement block structure designed to serve the needs of Pomps Pond bathers and pond attendants. One side of the bathhouse consists of two dressing rooms separating male and female groups and including showers, lavatories, and toilets. The other side has a room for lifeguards, swimming instructors, and associated equipment, and a kitchen providing food service. The kitchen includes a radar oven so that some hot foods will be available.

Separating the two sides is a central corridor which will house the life boat at night and provide locker storage.

Emphasis throughout the design has been placed on minimizing maintenance and on creating a relatively vandal-proof structure. Towards this aim, two metal overhead doors are used to secure the building's entrances after hours.

A flat, reinforced concrete roof caps the structure.

Garden clubs in Andover have been invited to assist in the planning and decorating of the grounds around the bathhouse to make the most use of the town appropriation for landscaping.

Favorable weather has enabled construction to begin ahead of schedule.

dle the recount operation and also notify all candidates for the school committee in the March 22 election advising them that the retabulation is to take place.

Candidates are entitled to have counsel and observers for each counter at the recount.

The procedure will involve examining the almost 5,400 computer cards used in the annual town election, in the precedent setting recount.

Chance of error in the computer cards has been debated since the two-vote difference a week ago Monday night. Some contend that possibly the ballots were not punched all the way through which could make a difference in the processing. Others contend that the computer is programmed and the human examination of the ballots will not alter the result. Thus, the accuracy of the computer operation will be determined.

Kolaski, in a statement released to the TOWNSMAN on Monday, noted the flood of phone calls and personal urging for the recount as the major factor in moving for the recount.

He said:

"I have decided to submit a formal request to the Andover Town Clerk for a recount of last Monday's School Committee balloting. This decision was reached after careful consultation with individuals familiar with computer processing and electoral procedures.

"While I have the utmost respect for the integrity and competence of all those officials involved in the conduct of Andover's elections, I believe that the possibility of even the slightest error, either human or mechanical, justifies this request, as a difference of approximately 0.02% would change the outcome of the election.

"Since Monday night (March 22), we have been deluged with telephone calls from Andover voters urging us to request a recount. It is my hope that the recount will put to rest any doubts that people may have regarding the results of the election, and allow Andover to attend to its educational affairs."

should prove otherwise. Salter swore him in the day after the election.

"We should proceed," Finn said, "according to the usual format... as if I will be on the committee for the next three years." If the recount went against him, he said, it was "pretty obvious that the majority would sway the other way," and that the vote for chairman should be taken over.

Seifert said that he had received "inconclusive answers" on the question from officials both here and in Boston. The only precedent, he said, was the case of a selectman who was ousted by a recount. Decisions made during the selectman's short stay on the board were allowed to stand.

Seifert also said that Town Counsel Alfred Daniels had suggested that the committee go through its agendas without electing a new chairman and secretary, until the results of the recount were known.

The committee, however, voted to proceed with electing its officers.

Before relinquishing the gavel, Griggs said he had served as chairman for three years and felt it was time to turn over the gavel "hardly used".

"The best I can say," he added, "is that serving as chairman of the Andover School Committee has been an experience."

Griggs had earlier noted that Committeeman Robert McIntyre had done a "fine job" after being unanimously elected by the school committee last fall to fill out the term of John Lyons who resigned last spring.

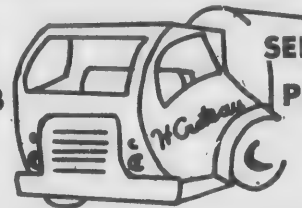

"It was not a particularly easy time to be on the School Committee in the Town of Andover," Griggs said, then added, "I'm not sure there's ever going to be an easy time."

He also noted that Lyons and John G. Wragg would have been winding up their terms with the recent election, but that "neither one saw fit to complete his term." He said both, however, did "yeoman service to the town."

courtesy be extended."

Olesen said he clearly understood and asked that "I be judged on my performance as conductor of a meeting." That, he said, was the job of a school committee chairman.

Olesen at the outset of the meeting had defended Finn's fight to "conduct himself with the full privileges of a member of the school committee."

Finn's seat is in jeopardy as a result of the upcoming recount of ballots of last week's election (see separate story).

Finn said that Town Clerk Elden Salter had said he was on the committee as of the day he was elected, and until a recount

The Greater Lawrence area boasts over 80 troops in the towns of Lawrence, Methuen, Andover, North Andover, Groveland and Georgetown. Girls aged 6-17 may be members of Brownie, Junior, Cadette or Senior Girl Scout troops.

In the troops they learn skills of lifetime use in outdoor activities of all kinds, dramatics and arts, crafts, as well as having ample opportunity to learn about themselves, their communities, and to explore career possibilities by "apprenticing" in areas of their interest.

Adults learn many of the same skills and have the opportunity to meet new people in training courses, at leader meetings, and as staff members at day and resident camps. Adults also serve on committees at local and council levels.

The troop-oriented adults and the council-oriented adults come together at the annual meeting, where they have the chance to learn about each other's role and make some of their views known.

Selected For Girl Scout Program

Nineteen Cadette and Senior Girl Scouts from the Merrimack River Girl Scout Council have been selected to participate in sixteen national and international events in the Spring and Summer of 1976. In addition, there are six alternates standing by, including one for an opportunity in Africa.

Wider Opportunities offered to Cadette and Senior Scouts throughout the nation in '76 include service training events like "Aide to Physically Handicapped Girls" and "Aide to Mentally Retarded Girls". There are also events for those with an artistic flair, among them "Art A La Carte" featuring painting, etching, or film making, and "Doddle-Le-Doo" for singers, dancers, and actresses.

Outdoor-minded girls will find ample opportunities for backpacking, canoeing, horseback riding, hiking and camping. And there are many Bicentennially related offerings including an "Intercontinental Congress" in Philadelphia featuring participation in the July 4 official observance at Independence Hall.

In Greater Lawrence, two girls were selected for two opportunities, and a Senior Troop from Georgetown was chosen to participate in an event in Rockwood.

Cynthia Reddish of Andover, Cadette Troup 594, was selected to participate in the Merrimack River Council's national opportunity "New England Peaks to Ports". For two weeks in August, Cynthia will be touring seacoast towns such as Gloucester along the North Shore, high spots in Boston, and backpacking in the White Mountains along with sixty other Scouts from across the were chosen from among hundreds of Girl Scout applicants with varying degrees of experience and interest in the activities featured in the event they applied for. Selections were made by a committee from the council sponsoring the event, based on the girls' application forms and, in some cases, from interviews with selections committee members at the Merrimack River Council.

Wider Opportunities are open to all Cadette and Senior Girl Scouts in the United States. For more information, contact the Merrimack River Girl Scout Council in Andover, 89 North Main Street, 617-475-4511.

'Equus' Breaking Records

Once every decade, a play elicits the kind of critical accolades which Peter Shaffer's powerful drama received in London, then in New York, where it won every conceivable theatre prize on Broadway, and now in Boston, it is continuing to break attendance and longevity records at the Wilbur Theatre (Boston).

"Equus" is a play about a physician who cannot heal himself.

It is also about passions and religion and crime.

It is also the story of a hair-raising crime committed by a seventeen year old boy in a riding stable in England.

The story of the psychiatrist who has to treat him. Dr. Martin Dysart (played by Brian Bedford), is about a doctor already in the throes of what he himself calls "professional menopause". Dysart is already beginning to feel uneasy about his profession and his own achievement before Alan Strang (portrayed by Dai Bradley) bursts into his life. Thereafter it is inevitably changed.

Kevin Kelly of the Boston Globe called it "The Best Play of the Year in Boston." Elliot Norton, critic on the Herald-American said it was "A Dramatic Thunderbolt!" and Pat

Mitchell, theatre critic on WBZ-TV said "Race to the Wilbur and see this powerful and exciting drama 'Equus.'" Clive Barnes of the New York Times said "Equus" is a whodunit rather than a whodunit."

"Equus" was originally scheduled at the Wilbur Theatre for a six week engagement and hopefully for an additional six weeks prior to its going on tour to other contracted major theatre cities. But, since the opening night in November, 1975, the demand for tickets became so overwhelming that producers Kermit Bloomgarden and Doris Cole Abrahams extended the playing dates for "Equus" several times, and now this drama which has captivated the hearts of theatregoers in Boston has been extended indefinitely.

On March 28, it will celebrate its 150th performance, and from indications at the box office the demand for tickets still keeps pouring in, and the advance sale so promising that "Equus" will surely celebrate its bicentennial performance in Boston.

Lecture Series On Adolescence

The Andover Connection Counseling Center of the Greater Lawrence Community Drug Council, in conjunction with the Recreation - Community Schools Department, will sponsor the upcoming lecture series "Adolescence: A Time of Conflict".

The lectures will focus upon current adolescent issues, and will be of interest to parents, students, teachers and all those who deal directly with this special age group.

Adolescence is a scary, difficult and confusing transition from childhood to adulthood for both the teenager and his/her family. In an effort to answer the many questions concerned people have asked about the adolescent, the lecture series will address itself to the areas of: what happens to the adolescent - physically and emotionally, the adolescent and the family, adolescent and education, special needs teenage students, and the legal rights of adolescents.

The series will be held at the Doherty School, Bartlet St., Andover, and will run from 8-9:30 p.m. The dates and topics are as follows:

April 7 - Overview - Joel Eichler, Ph.D., Director of Adolescent Unit, Greater Lawrence Community Mental Health Center.

April 14 - Family and the Adolescent - Lee Somers, D.Ed., psychologist in private practice.

April 28 - Cognitive and Affective Influences in Education - Dr. Kenneth Seifert, Superintendent, Andover Schools; and Special Needs - Pam Kvilekval, M.Ed., Pupil Personnel Administrator, Andover Schools.

May 5 - The Juvenile Judicial System and Legal Rights of Adolescents - Jerry Cohen, Attorney-at-Law, State Representative.

Pre-registration may be done in person (weekdays 8:30-4:30) or by mail to: Recreation - Community Schools Department, Stowe School, 36 Bartlet St., Andover, Mass. 01810.

Garden Time Here

With the advent of spring, it's time to start making definite plans for summer vegetable gardens, suggests the Massachusetts Department of Food and Agriculture.

A wise first step is a soil test, and you can have one made on the spot at the Food and Garden Show at Burlington Mall, April 5 to 10. Just bring one cup of very dry soil and let the experts do the testing.

A growing spring vegetable garden will be on display and horticulturists will answer your questions on planting and growing to best suit your needs and land.

Information will also be available on the Department's Community Gardening Program, which is coordinating the use of vacant state owned land for gardening by local groups.

Nursery representatives and a seed company agronomist will also offer advice, plans and products for the home gardener.

Antique farm tools will be exhibited, as well as modern agricultural equipment used in maple sugaring and apple harvesting. Visitors can also watch chickens hatching in an incubator.

Consumer information on nutrition, unit pricing and open date coding will be offered by home economists and nutritionists.

Food exhibits will include a farm stand, egg cookery, bread making and meat cutting demonstrations.

A special feature of the Farm and Garden Show will be the Apple Bake-Off, which will take place Monday through Thursday, April 5 to 8, from noon to 3 p.m. Competing for $1000 in prizes will be twelve state semi-finalists, who will be announced next

Other top playmakers included Cammarata with 30 assists, Sagaser (19), Driscoll (18), Morin (17), Mike Anderson (15) and Ken Southworth (13).

Behind Farnham in penalty minutes were Driscoll with 48, Dean Robinson 40, Jeff Hudgins 34, Phil Weeks 24 and Steve Morin 20. The team "angel" among regular performers was John Sagaser with only two penalty minutes.

Eight Andover players saw action in all 34 games, namely Farnham, Cammarata, Driscoll, Morin, Anderson, Weeks, Robinson and Hudgins.

Missing only one game each were Sagaser, Merola, Joe Cahill and Jim Higgins, while Southworth competed in all but two contests.

Andover players chalked up a combined total of 386 points, adding 228 assists to their 158 goals. The club also had 310 penalty minutes.

Their scoring average per game was 4.647 goals.

Goaltending

Todd Bateson and Dave Cullinan split the goaltending duties almost in half.

Bateson appeared for all or portions of 26 games, working 54 periods, and he surrendered 70 goals for a 3.89 goals-allowed average.

Cullinan toiled for all or portions of 23 games, 48 periods, and permitted 55 goals for a 3.44 average.

Between them the net tandem posted a fine 3.68 mark.

David Sullivan With Prized Work

Andover artist David Sullivan received two purchase prize awards at the opening of the Boston Printmakers 28th Annual Exhibition at the Boston Center for the Arts, 539 Tremont St., Boston. His work is featured with 137 other artists through April 2, 1976.

Sullivan's entry "Could Watergate Happen in America the Beautiful" was purchased by the First National Bank of Boston. Another print will go into the DeCordova Museum collection in Lincoln.

The print is a silk screen version of a larger oil painting which won a gold medal at the annual Jordan Marsh Show in Boston.

Sullivan, an accomplished painter who began printing silk screens last September, was among nearly 700 entrants from across the country.

He started silk screening when he found that the large expanses of flat color and crisp linear edges strived for in his paintings were more easily and better expressed through this technique. It also allowed him to retain color gradation which he did not entirely want to lose in his work.

Although Sullivan will continue to spend a good deal of his time printing, he said he would break every six months or so to resume painting.

Sullivan lives at 94 North Main St., Andover. An extensive view of his work is on hand at the Andover Gallery of Fine Art, 91 North Main St., Andover.

Bowdoin Night Set For "Pops"

Bowdoin College alumni and their families, faculty members, students and friends will gather at Symphony Hall in Boston May 6 for the 29th annual "Bowdoin Night at the Pops."

The program will feature the Boston Pops Orchestra, under the direction of Arthur Fiedler, and an appearance by the Bowdoin Meddiebumpsters, a widely known undergraduate singing group.

"Bowdoin Night at the Pops" is sponsored by the Bowdoin Club of Boston, the nation's largest Bowdoin alumni organization, in support of the College's scholarship program. The concert will begin at 8:30 p.m.

The entire main floor and choice first balcony seats have been reserved for Bowdoin, with reservations to be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis. Reservations must be received before Wednesday, April 14, and tickets will be mailed after that date.

Rabies Clinic Saturday

A Rabies Clinic, sponsored by the Andover Board of Health, and conducted by Dr. Richard D. Lindsay, D.V.M., will be held on Saturday, April 3, and April 10, between 8:30 a.m. and 12 noon at the Doherty School Gym, Bartlet St., near the rear door entrance. Fee for the vaccination is $2.00.

Under General Laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Chapter 217, of the Acts of 1969, all dogs 6 months of age or older shall be vaccinated against rabies by a licensed veterinarian and all vaccinated dogs must be re-vaccinated at intervals not exceeding 24 months. In accordance with a town bylaw dog owners in Andover must present a rabies certificate before a new license can be issued.

Dog license renewals are due during the month of April for 1976. The Town Clerk's office staff will be at the gym so that those wishing to obtain a dog license at the same time the rabies shots are given may do so. License fees are: Males, $4; Females, $6; and Spayed Females, $4.

When registering a spayed dog for the first time a spayed certificate is required.

Train Service

Monday night the selectmen received a report from Town Manager J. Maynard Austin on the costs of the service through the end of this fiscal year, and an approximation that to continue the service for another fiscal year would require an appropriation of $35,000.

ARC members Atty. Robert S. Zollner and Warren Lewis also discussed the cost factor of the service and concluded that "in the best interests of the town, you have little choice," in concurring with the board's decision not to ask for additional funds.

Both Zollner and Lewis said the decision was regrettable.

They suggested that the board consider asking either the FinCom or town meeting for the funds needed to close out the account with the MBTA on a good relationship, in case someday service can be restored.

What is needed is $1,900 for a deficit of some $9,500 for this fiscal year. That figure will be scaled down, as the estimate at this time is for the full fiscal year ending June 30.

The recommendation was to terminate service as of April 1, but both Lewis and Atty. Zollner suggested that an April 15 deadline be set in order to allow regular patrons an opportunity to make arrangements for other transportation to Boston.

The MBTA officials, however, made the ultimate decision and said it would end on Friday with the last train out.

Ability to make the decision is due to the insistence of Town Manager Austin on a firm contract with the MBTA.

In the past decade of subsidized train service, towns and cities participating were subject to an open-ended contract. In other words, the contract was an annual one and deficits were passed on to cities and towns automatically at the end of the year.

This year, Austin insisted on a contract which allowed either the town or the MBTA to terminate service if, in the town's case, it became evident the costs would exceed funds available.

In addition to cost figures, there have been indications that the ridership has decreased as well. An average of 72 riders have been recorded through audits this past year, down considerably from the figures of a year ago when over 100 daily passengers boarded the train in Andover.

The selectmen and town manager will wrestle with the problem of what to do about the deficit - the approximately $12,000 coverage for 1975 and fiscal '76.

The ARC members were extended the appreciation of the board through Chairman Milton Greenberg who said they should be commended for their forthrightness in the matter.

Selectman Richard J. Bowen said that if a "rap" is to be given anyone, it is the Boston and Maine railroad and not the MBTA, which has enough problems and, in a sense, is a victim of circumstances in the overall problem.

Termination of service seems definite this time.

A year ago October, town meeting voted not to appropriate funds for continued train service and jeopardized the single round-trip train.

But the rail committee was formed and pledges received to guarantee payment of funds to keep the train going until last March when the annual town meeting would be asked to underwrite the expense.

Town meeting approved, after some debate, in which increased service was proposed by the ARC group.

Atty. Zollner and Lewis met with MBTA officials during the year and outlined some possibility of increased trains to Andover, but the cost factors could never be brought into line.

Believed to be the culprit in the soaring cost this year is maintenance of the Budd cars. MBTA had allocated $60,000 for maintenance, while B. and M. billed the authority for over $200,000, according to reports.

License Fees Increased

On recommendation of Town Clerk Elden R. Salter, one-day alcoholic beverage licenses, usually granted to non-profit organizations for special occasions, will now cost $25 per day, the selectmen decided this week.

The selectmen, sitting as the licensing commission, also approved a change in managership for Andover Liquors, Inc. to Irving Woodman Winn, Jr. of Sunset Rock Road.

Personnel On School Agenda

Several new positions, recommended by Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert this week, will be discussed by the School Committee Tuesday night at 7:30 p.m. in Stowe School.

Since the committee has passed next year's budget without funds for additional teachers, any new ones would have to come at the expense of existing programs or personnel.

White Plains Post Office

The U.S. Postal Service last week dropped plans for a new facility on Andover street, and the landowner, Sidney P. White, began planning another use for the acreage.

The Andover street location, in controversy since it was announced last fall, was dropped by the postal service, following considerable opposition to the proposed site by town officials and residents.

White, who owns the dairy bar and American Power Devices building across Andover street, this week termed the decision unfortunate, but said he would proceed with developing plans he has considered for a long time to put a new barn there.

As for the sign which had been placed to indicate the proposed location of the new post office, White said he didn't have to be concerned about removing it, since it had been torn down three times.

Last Thursday, on the evening of the announcement of the dropping of the site, the sign was, for the third time, torn off at the base, White noted disgustedly.

Construction of a barn on the site is permissible, White said, because the land is classed as agricultural. He would put Palomino horses there and possibly a few beef cattle, the
